

ALL SICK WOMEN

SHOULD READ MRS. FOX'S LETTER

In All Parts of the United States Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Effectuated Similar Cures.

Many wonderful cures of female ills are continually coming to light which have been brought about by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and through the advice of Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., which is given to sick women absolutely free of charge.

Mrs. Pinkham has for many years made a study of the ills of her sex; she has consulted with and advised thousands of suffering women, who to-day owe not only their health but even life to her helpful advice.

Mrs. Fannie D. Fox, of 7 Chestnut Street, Bradford, Pa., writes:

"I suffered for a long time with womb trouble, and finally was told by my physician that I had a tumor on the womb. I did not want to submit to an operation, so wrote you for advice. I received your letter and did as you told me, and to-day I am completely cured. My doctor says the tumor has disappeared, and I am once more a well woman. I believe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine in the world for women."

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women establish beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She asks nothing in return for her advice. It is absolutely free, and to thousands of women has proved to be more precious than gold.

A RECIPE FOR A WIFE.

Take two cups of hazel, Big and bright and kind, With a glance of mischief Peeping out behind.

Cut her profile clearly In the Gibson style; Just display a dimple When she wants to smile.

Set the bow of Cupid On her upper lip, And, to test the sweetness, Take a little sip.

Though her form's well rounded, Curve, where curve should be, Do not take for granted More than you can see.

Let her waist be slender, But remember please, There must be some substance There for you to squeeze.

Let her hand be dainty, Very soft and white; Press it—it will answer With a pressure light.

Do not pry too closely On her past amours, Lest you find her record Much too good for yours.

Let her sense of duty, Lastly, be so strong, She will answer softly, Though she's in the wrong.

RECEPTION FOR MR. TURTON AND BRIDE.

Mr. and Mrs. George Turton, Jr., returned last evening from a brief honeymoon visit in Mobile where they were royally entertained by the bridegroom's friends and when they reached the residence of the groom's father, 200 East Government street, were surprised by a gorgeous array of bridal presents including handsome rugs, leather chairs, silver and other beautiful things from their friends.

Later an informal reception was held, a large number of friends calling to present congratulations and good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Turton were assisted by their attendants Mr. Lee Bell, Miss May Bell and by the groom's father Mr. George Turton, Sr.

The decorations were very attractive and the table was especially so, among other inviting pieces being a large bride's cake and a large groom's cake handsomely ornamented and in the bride's cake was a ring.

HAD A BECOMING APPEARANCE, TOO.

A woman wearing a hoopskirt, a crinoline, if you please, appeared on the street in this town yesterday. And she had a becoming appearance, too. The crinoline is coming, but many women assert that they will not wear it.—Miami Metropolis.

DR. HUTCHINSON GOES TO NEW ORLEANS.

Dr. Clarence Hutchinson left Tuesday for New Orleans to assume the duties of the position as assistant house surgeon to Toussaint, a position he held in a competitive examination with men from the best schools in this country. His duties begin July 1 and the appointment is for two years.

Dr. Hutchinson has a host of friends in this city, where he has spent his life and where he received his preliminary training, who are watching his career with unusual interest.

Upon graduation from the Pensacola High School he entered upon a collegiate course receiving the degree of A. B. before starting the study of medicine.

On entering Tulane University Dr. Hutchinson was allowed the privilege of taking the first two years of his medical course in one year, which task he accomplished most creditably, graduating only a few weeks ago with special honorable mention and a few days later won the position he assumes to-morrow. He carries with him the best wishes of a wide circle of home friends and their assurance that success will continue to crown his efforts.

GONZALEZ-ROLFS WEDDING LAST NIGHT.

The wedding last night of Miss Gila Gonzalez and Mr. J. Gebhard Rolfs was a pretty home affair at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Blake J. Gonzalez, 214 North DeVilliers. Rev. Father Fullerton officiated, only the family connections and a few friends witnessing the ceremony, after which there was an informal reception and delightful refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolfs left on the midnight train for an extended trip abroad, expecting to return in the fall.

WARP AND WOOF OF THE SOCIAL FABRIC.

Wonder how many of his hearers plumed the tremendous depths of Congressman Thayer's assertion at the Lewis and Clarke Exposition, that "We cannot be of the rich unless we are of the poor; we cannot be of the capitalist unless we are of the wage earner; we cannot be of the rulers unless we are of the ruled?"

Wonder how many of those who tried to sound its depths got beyond the personal, selfish surface—that almost impenetrable barrier to the joy of great truths?

And yet—if we could only apply even the last phrase of the sentence—which is the great fundamental truth—what loads of humiliation it would remove; what fires of resentment at injustice it would quench; what insubordination it would check; what rage of uncertainty it would dissolve; and—how many brave but discouraged souls it would arouse from apathy to renewed ambition, to renewed effort, to restored ideals, to rejuvenated faith in the principle that we all mean well and that there would be no anger, no distrust, no resentment, if we all understood each other's motives.

SMART DINNER JACKET.

The vogue of the separate coat for all sorts of occasions, formal and informal, increases daily. There are breakfast jackets, luncheon and tea jackets, bridge jackets and dinner coats of a thousand and one varieties; at least so it seems to the woman who is trying valiantly to make a choice, and make one jacket do duty for a dozen. The subject of the illustration is one that will fit in well for a great number of occasions. There is a carefully boned and fitted lining, a vest of tucked mousseline being cascaded with lace, and the front rolled back in long ruffles that match the round collar. A closely swathed girde of black satin makes a very piquant note to the coat of palest yellow crepe de chine; and the smart basques are shirred to this girde, and lined inside with the black mesaline. The sleeve is a double puff that ends with a frill above the elbow.

BAGDAD

Special to The Journal.
Bagdad, June 29.—Mrs. Emily Jasper returned Friday from a pleasant visit to Pensacola, accompanied by her granddaughter, Miss Nellie Andrews.

Misses Olive Andrews and Jessie Griffin returned to their homes in Pensacola Saturday, after a pleasant visit among friends and relatives.

Mrs. Mary Parker, of Meridian, Miss., is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Sindorf.

The Stearns & Culver Lumber Company have taken an order for immediate shipment to Panama for 900,000 feet of dressed lumber. 850,000 of it is to be dry 1x6 heart stock. But few mills in this country could take such an order for immediate shipment of dry 1x6 heart lumber dressed.

On Saturday last from 8:00 to 10:00 o'clock, Miss Alpine Sindorf entertained a number of friends at her home with a souvenir party in honor of Miss Myrtle Blair of West Virginia, before her return home on the following Sunday, after an extended visit to her sister, Mrs. D. C. Williams.

There were present on this delightful occasion, Misses Elwyn Stewart, Mr. Ben Creary, Miss Cassie Sweeting, of Tallahassee; Mr. Edwin Watson, Miss Lillie Sellars, Mr. Paul Blair, Miss Tat-tie Walker, Mr. Will Miller, Miss Emma Miller, Mr. J. A. Avant, Miss Myrtle Blair and Mr. Frank Smith.

After a couple of hours were spent playing games, delicious refreshments were served, after which the charming Miss Sweeting sang a most beautiful and popular solo to the delight of all present.

Miss Blair received many beautiful presents which show the high esteem of her hosts of friends and will doubtless always be a reminder of the pleasant times while on her visit in the "Land of Flowers."

On Sunday morning a number of friends accompanied Miss Blair as far as Pensacola on her return home, all wishing her a pleasant trip and an early return.

MOVING ON FRIDAY.

There Seems to Be a Lot of Superstition About It.

"Friday is a kind of holiday in our business," said the professional mover. "There is a big lot of superstition in this matter, and, except in cases of actual necessity, it is hard to get any body to move on Friday. If a few families that intend to change quarters could only be induced to put aside their foolish prejudice against the sixth day of the week they could be set up in their new home with half the trouble and inconvenience they will experience on any other day. I have explained that to many prospective customers, but the chances are that most of them will vote to join the rush rather than tempt bad luck by moving on Friday."

"Most of our movers dislike Friday as much as the customers. Whatever jobs are assigned to them they attend to, of course, but every last man of our employ will be glad if not a single order was booked for Friday. They claim that every smashup they figure in, every accident to the furniture through loss or breakage, occurs on a Friday, so for their own sake they uphold the customers in their fight against Friday."—New York Press.

How Mexicans Test Eggs.

It is a common sight in the plaza to behold a stall woman, who is selling two reals' worth of eggs, pick them up one by one, put one end and then the other to her lips and hand them over to the customer, who repeats the same identical operation. To the inexperienced onlooker it seems as if they were tasting the extremities of the egg. As a matter of fact, they never touch the egg with the tongue. The idea of the performance is that when an egg is fresh one end is distinctly colder than the other. The end which has the air chamber is the warmer of the two. The human lips are exceedingly sensitive to heat and cold, and even the novice at this form of egg testing promptly becomes a capable judge. If both ends of the egg reveal the same temperature, that egg may be counted as bad, as it is a fairly good sign that the air chamber is broken and the contents spread equally within the shell.—Mexican Herald.

A Kissing Festival.

In the old town of Helmsing, in Roumania, an annual fair is held on St. Theodore's day. On this occasion all the newly wedded brides from the surrounding villages throng the town, but the widows, who have remarried remain at home.

The young women are generally attended by their mothers-in-law, and in their hands they bear pitchers of wine wreathed with flowers. They salute every one they meet and then present their jugs for a sip to be taken. The person so favored makes the bride a small gift. As it is considered an insult if the proffered wine be refused, the brides are careful to be reserved toward strangers and only kiss those whom they think likely to partake of their wine.

This kissing festival is celebrated in the public streets, in private houses, in the taverns and, in fact, everywhere, but the origin of it is lost in obscurity.

The Pensacola Classical School furnishes the elements of a sound education.

It offers every advantage for preparation for the best colleges, universities and scientific schools in the country.

Its instructors are thoroughly equipped teachers in the departments of work in which they instruct.

The pupils received are limited to such a number as will insure a careful supervision of the work of each. The individual is the unit of instruction.
